
Chasing Bigfoot

A few weeks ago I was on a flight with free TV. Flipping through the channels I found a show called Chasing Bigfoot. It's series that looks at the Bigfoot legend through the eyes of the true believers who devote their lives to making history by discovering Bigfoot. I couldn't stop watching. Analyzing clues, chasing rumors and scouring forests all over the country, their search is steadfast and methodical. I have to admit, their certainty that they will find Sasquatch drew me in. I, along with millions of others, found myself persuaded that he might actually reveal himself before the end of the show. Okay, they were probably doing a lot of it for the cameras, but they did make me entertain the possibility that they could actually find Bigfoot someday. It also made me wonder, what if we approach our business with the same level of confidence and zeal, convinced that we will succeed?

Whether a quest for Bigfoot or success in business, we can't discover what we seek if we don't really believe it exists. On the other hand when we truly believe in the quest, convinced that success is there for us, we will push past the inevitable doubts and find a way to triumph. When you believe you will get the deal and that you deserve it, you will search for opportunities until you find them. You will go after those opportunities harder and your commitment to succeed will overcome your fears. This week believe in yourself and your quest. Believe you will find your success and that you deserve it. Commit to yourself and make this week count!
