

Happiness Not Included

Much like purchasing a toy with, "batteries not included", happiness isn't automatically included either. Happiness stems from our actions, our thoughts and our faith. Luckily, we each get to choose the actions we take, the thoughts we think, and the beliefs we hold. Negativity can cloud your mind and affect your actions. The key is not allowing the adversity of a moment to disrupt your whole day, week, or month. Difficulties will come but with a focus on gratitude and appreciation for what we have and what we have accomplished, they will only last a moment. You control you! Happiness might not be ready made, but we each have the ability to make it!
